5. Prong 3 Initiatives

Since Northern Minnesota Public Television (NMPTV operating KAWE) is classified as a small market station, we are required to comply with at least two prong 3 initiatives every two-year reporting period as is outlined by the FCC.

For the EEO reporting period ending November 30, 2018, NMPTV has met the goals and has accomplished several Prong 3 initiatives as follows:

(v) Operation of an internship program designed to assist members of the community to acquire skills needed for broadcast employment.

Description: NMPTV has a strong partnership with Bemidji State University (BSU) and Central Lakes College in Brainerd, MN. Every semester, NMPTV offers volunteer opportunities and formal internships for students enrolled in Bemidji State University and Central Lakes College's video and mass communications program in both TV production and journalism areas.

In addition to offering formal internships to BSU students, NMPTV also recruits and trains mass communications students from both BSU and Central Lakes College in Brainerd to assist with local productions throughout the school year.

In addition, NMPTV also provides other community members the opportunity to train and learn various jobs involved with the production of local programming. Just one example of this is as follows: NMPTV produces a Monday through Friday nightly newscast and community volunteers are recruited and trained for various positions necessary for the production of the news. All technical positions other than the technical director are staffed with these volunteer / training positions. These include teleprompter, cameras, floor director, and audio operator. People that are recruited for these volunteer / training positions are trained by staff personnel and do become proficient in the technical areas mentioned above and many acquire the skills for employment in these areas. During the covered reporting period well over 30 people have participated in this program and have learned valuable broadcast skills.

(viii) Establishment of training programs designed to enable station personnel to acquire skills that could qualify them for higher-level positions.

Description: Being a small market station with limited resources, we are a continual training ground. Being a small market TV station, we typically turn over and hire several news reporters every year. These reporters are usually hired directly out of college with little or no on-the-job experience. During 2018, we hired four college graduates with little previous on-the-job experience as reporters. Dennis Weimann, our news director, does an outstanding job training these new employees to not only report the news, but also moves every one of these new reporters into the role of anchoring and putting together the entire newscast. This allows these reporters to fill in the lead anchor role and gain experience that will allow them to move into more demanding roles here at NMPTV and also to move into bigger market jobs with more responsibility.

(ix) Establishment of a mentoring program for station personnel

Description: In our news department, we typically hire graduates right out of school. Dennis Weimann (who is our news director) mentors these new graduates / hires and helps them to learn the business and grow in their current position. This mentorship allows these young reporters who are new in the business to move up in our organization and also on to bigger market jobs. During 2018, we have had four of our news reporter staff turn over and take jobs in larger markets after working with us for between a year and two years. This is a great example of how effective this mentoring is in our news department. This kind of mentoring takes place with all of our reporters here at NMPTV. We're proud of how we train our employees for greater responsibility and career advancement.
