

Become a part of the story! Oral History Interview Protocol

One Minnesota National Guard combat team became the longest serving military unit during the Iraq War—a 22 month long deployment. This was the 1st Brigade Combat Team, 34th Infantry Division, widely known as the "Red Bulls."

Imagine you will interview a soldier from this unit about their experience.
What would you ask them? As a small group, discuss the following:

- What information is important for us to know? Why?
- How can we encourage a diversity of answers with our questions?
- What don't we know or understand?
- What do we want to know more about?

Develop a list of 5-10 questions you would ask during your interview and write them below.
Use the back for additional space.

